- Review and approve corporate goals and objectives relevant to the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer. The Chairperson of the Committee will consult with the Chairperson of the NCG Committee, the Chairperson of the Board and the independent members of the Board as well as the Chief Executive Officer in connection with such review.

- Evaluate the performance of the Chief Executive Officer in light of the goals and objectives set for him or her. The Chairperson of the Committee will consult with the Chairperson of the NCG Committee, the Chairperson of the Board and the independent members of the Board as well as the Chief Executive Officer with respect to such evaluation. The Committee, however, shall have the sole authority to determine the compensation levels of the Chief Executive Officer based on this evaluation. This includes salary, awards under annual incentive and long-term incentive programs, whether stock or cash, any perquisites and other personal benefits provided by the Corporation and determinations relating to the deductibility of compensation under Section 162(m) of the Code. In determining the long-term incentive component of Chief Executive Officer compensation, the Committee may consider, among other things, the Corporation's performance and relative stockholder return, the value of similar incentive awards to chief executive officers at comparable companies, and the awards given to the Chief Executive Officer in past years.
- Review and approve other significant terms of employment for the Chief Executive Officer, including participation in Broad-based Programs.
- Review and approve the compensation, including base salary, incentive awards, any perquisites and other personal benefits provided by the Corporation and its affiliates and other significant terms of employment, including participation in Broad-based Programs, for individuals who report directly to the Chief Executive Officer other than the Chief Executive Officer's Executive Assistant and individuals serving on an interim basis who report to the Chief Executive Officer during the interim period ("Senior Management").

- At least annually, conduct a Compensation Risk Assessment of the Company's incentive programs.
- Confer, as needed, with the Senior Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer (or, if none, such other person as may be acting in that capacity) on compensation and benefit matters.
- Review and make recommendations to the Board on matters concerning compensation programs relating to non-employee directors, taking into consideration the value of items such as meeting fees, retainer payments and incentive awards at comparable companies. The Committee may consider such other factors as it deems necessary or advisable, including the competitiveness of non-employee director compensation, in making recommendations for non-employee director compensation.

- Oversee and assist the Corporation in preparing the CD&A (in accordance with Item 402(b) of Regulation S-K, as in effect from time to time (“Regulation S-K”)), the narrative disclosure of compensation policies and practices as they relate to the Corporation’s risk management (in accordance with Item 402(s) of Regulation S-K) and the Say on Pay Vote (in accordance with Section 14A of the Exchange Act), for inclusion in the Corporation’s proxy statement and/or annual report on Form 10-K, as well as other Corporation filings or reports related to the Committee’s purpose (when and as necessary).

- Exercise any fiduciary, administrative or other function assigned to the Committee under any of the Corporation’s health, benefit or welfare plans.
- Review and make recommendations to the Board, or approve, any compensatory contracts or other transactions with members of Senior Management, including consulting arrangements, employment contracts, change-in-control agreements, severance agreements or termination arrangements, deferred compensation programs and loans to employees made or guaranteed by the Corporation. Although the Committee will consult with management regarding Broad-based Programs in which Senior Management may participate, the Committee will not be responsible for making recommendations to the Board, or approving, any Broad-based Program unless such Broad-based Program is subject to Board approval. Further, the Committee will not be responsible for reviewing any related person transactions (as defined in the Corporation’s Policy & Procedures with Respect to Related Person Transactions) other than transactions that involve executive compensation or Board compensation.
